ESTABLISHED IN 1897.

GREENSBORO, N. C., SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 3, 1911.

VOL. 14, NO. 262.

U. C. T.'S ELECTION OFFICERS AND END ANNUAL SESSION

By Hard Work Grand Council Completes Business During First Day--Meet Next Year in Spartanburg--Today Will be Devoted to Pleasure.

The Grand Council of the Carolinas, United Commercial Travelers, concluded its business sessions last evening and the remainder of the sojourn of the travelers in Greensboro will be devoted to pleasure, which is always a prominent feature of these annual gatherings.

Yesterday, after the opening session, the Grand Council got down to business and by energetic work completed the business before seven o'clock. At the morning session the various committees were appointed and yesterday afternoon they made reports. The reports were discussed and the usual amount of routine business attended to.

The concluding work of the session was the election of officers and the selection of the next place of meeting. Representatives from Spartanburg and Greenville were on hand to press their claims, Spartanburg being the place selected. Both cities made a strong fight for the convention. John Wood, secretary of the Spartanburg Chamber of Commerce, was present and extended the invitation in behalf of Spartanburg. He presented to the Grand Council a huge wooden key on one side of which was inscribed the words "Spartanburg," and on the opposite side "The City of Success, U. C. T., 1912."

The officers elected and installed for the ensuing year are as follows:

A. G. Barnette, Grand Past Counselor, Asheville.

E. Van Schaack, Grand Senior Counselor, Columbia.

J. H. Semple, Grand Junior Counselor, Charleston.

E. B. Littlefield, Grand Secretary, Charlotte.

C. O. Koester, Grand Treasurer, Charlotte.

David Ray, Grand Conductor, Wilmington.

E. A. Hughes, Grand Page, Raleigh.

H. R. Barrow, Grand Sentinel, Spartanburg.

Grand Executive Committee--C. C. Taylor, J. E. Gentry, Jim McConnelly, C. Ban Allen.

The following delegates and alternates were elected to the meeting of the Supreme Council, which meets in Columbus, O., June 28-29: Delegates--J. G. Shannonhouse, Charlotte; A. G. Barnette, Asheville; H. E. Gilliam, Greensboro. Alternates--O. Williams, Greensboro; E. E. Trogon, Charlotte; Lewis N. Schiff, Charlotte.

Opening Session.

The opening session of the council was held in the opera house yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, Grand Senior Counselor A. G. Barnette, presiding. The exercises were attended by the traveling men and a large number of Greensboro people. While the audience was assembling music was furnished by Hoods orchestra.

Promptly at 10 o'clock Counselor Barnette called the meeting to order and Rev. C. E. Hodgins made the invocation and following a selection by the band Mayor Thomas J. Murphy made the welcome address. Mayor Murphy said:

The Welcome Address.

Ladies and Gentlemen, and members of the Council of United Commercial Travelers of the Carolinas:

The most unique introduction I ever heard of occurred out west, when a young gentleman introducing one of the speakers of the occasion said: "Ladies and gentlemen, I will not bore you with a long speech today, but I will introduce to you a gentleman who will." It will be impossible for me, however, to bore you with a long address this morning, for two reasons, first, I am barred by our new form of city government, which intends that everything shall be done and spoken to the point, and in the shortest manner possible, and thereby does away with circumlocution and oratorical flights. Second, I am prevented from making a very long speech by the circumstances of my position as a Commissioner of the city, by reason of the fact that everybody now, including father, has to work.

It is a most pleasant privilege, and I esteem it a high honor, to address to you those words and sentiments which should make you know that you are welcome and honored guests among true and sincere friends; and on behalf of all our people, and of our Chamber of Commerce, and social organizations, and of our city government, I extend to you one and all the glad hand of welcome.

We like Travelers for we have had them with us from the beginning of time. Adam and Eve woke up one morning and found that they were not overburdened with baggage, and at once began to travel around through the shrubbery in the Garden of Eden.

Then Cain decided that he wanted to get married just as a good many of our young traveling men of this day do, and he traveled to the Land of Nod, and from all accounts his wife must have also traveled from some other world and met him there. The next traveler of whom we have any literary record is portrayed by Goldsmith in his poem entitled "The Traveler." And I find upon examining some of your literature that the same beautiful sentiments underlie the United Commercial Travelers, as those which Goldsmith's Traveler possessed; for instance, the expression that "each step away from home and loved ones was an additional link in the chain that bound his heart to theirs," seems to be exemplified in the benevolent and beneficial features of your grand organization in helping the widows and orphans of your deceased brothers by casting a ray of hope across their otherwise cheerless prospects; and in your noble provisions for your unfortunate brothers upon whom the heavy hand of accident has fallen. I hope also that you will so enjoy your stay with us here so that in the future wherever you hold your convention, whether on the banks of the placid Savannah or the roaring Dan, you will irresistibly turn towards Greensboro and say with Goldsmith's Traveler:

"Where'er I roam, whatever realms to see;
My heart untraveled fondly turns
To thee."

However, whatever kinds of travelers may have come and gone in the past ages, the fact remains that the Commercial Traveler has the grip on the present age. He feels the business pulse of every city and community, and administers to our commercial and industrial needs by his valued reports, his wise advice, his indomitable enterprise, his broad-minded ideas, and urbane ways.

We are proud of the fact that hundreds of traveling men make our city their home and leave their families here among us while they go back and forth waging the battle of life like veritable shuttle blocks weaving the cloth of gold that adorns the World of Trade; and I can truthfully say that no place has any finer citizens than they.

What is true of Greensboro's Traveling Men, I believe is true of Commercial Travelers as a class, and of the membership of your entire organization. Judging from what your organization has accomplished in the 23 years of its existence, from your high ideals of human service and brotherhood, and from your numbers and enthusiasm, I believe your organization can safely cast into the future the gleaming eye of hope and confidently rely upon the realization of its fondest dreams.

During your stay here we hope to impress upon you by various demonstrations our gratification at your presence, and our appreciation of you as individuals and as an organization.

Greensboro fully recognizes the importance of her guests on this occasion, for the commercial traveler is generally regarded as one of the most potent forces in heralding to the world the virtues of a place or people; the words of the press are powerful, but they are considered as documentary or hearsay evidence in comparison with the clarion call of the Commercial Traveler, which is listened to as a witness upon the stand. And where the United Commercial Travelers lead, others will do well to follow.

We open wide our City's Gates to you, our congenial friends of the Grip, who drive the arguments of commerce and industry home to more minds perhaps than the men of any other calling; and we hope that the pleasure will not all be ours, but that you too will reap your full share of the joys arising from this occasion. Greensboro's Resident Travelers have formulated a program of entertainment for you that is worthy of them, and one of which our city is proud.

Our principal suburban attractions are: Guilford Battle Ground of Revolutionary fame, where we have extensive grounds and numerous handsome monuments of granite and bronze, emphasizing the fact that constitutional liberty was won by blood, and if ever abandoned, will have to be regained in the same way. The towns of White Oak, Revolution, Proximity and Pomona, stand as monuments to the industrial skill and energy of some of the South's most enterprising capitalists and manufacturers of this section along manufacturing lines.

Lindley Park is a pleasure resort where you will sojourn for awhile, and adjoining it is one of the largest and most famous tree and plant nurseries in the South.

We also have in our midst some large and useful state and denominational colleges, that are enlightening not a few but all classes of our people.

At the Merchants and Manufacturers' Club reception, at numerous dances, ball games and excursions, we hope to meet and mingle with you and enjoy to the fullest extent that thorough-going good fellowship that characterizes Commercial Travelers everywhere.

We thank you for bringing so many charming ladies to grace this occasion.

I also thank you for the honor conferred upon me, and I gladly tender you the unlimited freedom and pleasure of the Gate City of the Carolinas.

E. Van Schaack, of Columbia, Grand Junior Counselor, made the response.

Mr. Schaack's Response.

Mr. Schaack said in part:

"Mr. Chairman, Mr. Mayor, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"Acting upon an impulse that is natural to all North Carolinians--an impulse that springs as spontaneously as does the Old North State hospitality--Grand Counselor Barnette turned his thoughts to the Palmetto State in what he considered his time of need. He needed a speaker. Naturally in reverting to South Carolina he thought of Columbia, the 'square meal town,' and home of the state legislature, where oratory is supposed to be on tap at all times. When he selected me to respond to Mayor Murphy's speech of welcome he placed himself in the position of the elephant who attempted to relieve a mother bird of her duty in hatching out her young. I leave you to imagine with what result. The elephant's intentions were all right, but his judgment was poor, and it is in this respect that the fable applies to Grand Master Barnette.

"With this introduction and an apology for the brevity and incompleteness of my reply, and expressing the

CATAWBA FARMERS DELIGHTED WITH GUILFORD ROADS

Viewed The City, Its Institutions
And Many Miles of Guilford Roads--Left For Their Homes Enthusiastic Good Roads Advocates.

The party of Catawba county farmers, who came to the city Thursday to spend a couple of days and visit places of interest and see the improved highways of this county, were given a ride of about sixty miles, around the city and over the roads of the county, Friday morning. The party and a number of Greensboro citizens who accompanied them, filled seven automobiles.

The Catawbans were first given a spin to the Normal College and over several miles of the High Point road. This was followed by a trip over some of the roads leading to Guilford College and a visit to the plant of the Pomona Terra Cotta Company and the greenhouses of the J. Van Lindley Nursery Company. This was followed by a trip over several miles of the McConnell road, where the convicts have done an immense amount of grading and the road workers are now engaged in putting down a sand and clay surface. Returning to the city the visitors were carried out North Elm street beyond the city limits, where the convicts are grading and preparing to build another sand and clay road. Going across the country the machines struck the road to the Guilford battleground and arriving there the party spent some time viewing the battleground. The party then returned to the city and at two o'clock the visitors were entertained at dinner by the Chamber of Commerce. Later they assembled in the offices of the Chamber, where R. D. Douglas made an address. Mr. Douglas told the visitors about the beginning of the road improvement campaign in this county, how bonds were voted, how the work was planned and executed and how the county has continued to extend the highway system with convict labor and tax money.

Later the visitors were escorted to the White Oak mills and shown through that mammoth industry. They then returned to the city and departed for their homes.

Every member of the Catawba party was delighted with the visit to Greensboro and with the courtesies shown them here. They were deeply impressed with the city, its institutions, industries and business enterprise; and they were delighted with the county's roads. They freely asserted that the roads were the finest they had ever seen. Every man in the party returns to Catawba county a good roads booster and it is believed that the result of this trip will be seen in that county soon in a strong movement to improve the highways.

Before leaving Greensboro the Catawba citizens adopted resolutions in expression of their appreciation of their entertainment here, the resolutions being as follows:

"We, the undersigned farmers and citizens of Catawba county, wish in this manner to express our appreciation of the kindness, courtesy and entertainment which the people we have met in Greensboro have shown us. Even from those who were not directly connected with our visit to Greensboro we have received nothing but uniform kindness. From the gentlemen who took care of us we received the best treatment. So pleasant has our visit been to Greensboro and Guilford county that we will all remember it and will ever look back on it as one of our most pleasant experiences.

"We particularly wish to show that we appreciate the kindness of Mr. C. C. McLean, who has not left anything undone that would add to our pleasure."

REVOLT BECOMES SERIOUS.

Insurrectos Victorious in Several Sharp Engagements With Federal Troops.

Cape Haitien, June 2.--The revolt in the Northern Department of Haiti against the government of President Simon is growing serious. The uprising began a month ago, and the rebels are daily becoming stronger.

Several sharp engagements have been fought between the rebels and the Federal troops under the command of General Jean Gilles, the Minister of War, and General Horelle Monplaisir, the commandant of the Cape Haitien District. The insurrectos were victorious. Many persons on both sides were wounded. The rebels captured two cannons and one machine gun. Several doctors, residents in this city, have been forced to go

M'KNIGHT ABANDONS EFFORTS TO SECURE RELEASE ON BAIL

Will be Brought Here
For Trial on June 6
Before Court Clerk

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, June 2.--Counsel for Dr. H. P. McKnight, general manager of the North Carolina Traction Company, Greensboro, have abandoned effort to get bail for their client and he has decided that he will go with officers to Greensboro June 6 for the hearing in the suit of arrest and bail before the clerk of the court of that date. The specific charge brought against him by Nowlin & Co., Lynchburg, is that he ordered coal sent to Greensboro for the purpose of reselling it at less than the market price and then failing to pay for it. The defense of McKnight will be that the coal in question was shipped to Greensboro by mistake of Nowlin & Co., shippers, when it should have gone to Rural Hall and that it was found to be cheaper to close it out at Greensboro at a sacrifice than to have it reshipped on short haul rate.

The reorganization of the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce was effected last afternoon in a mass meeting of the business men of the city in the new municipal auditorium work on which is so far advanced as to admit of this initial conference. Henry E. Litchford, cashier of Citizens National Bank, was elected president and W. B. Drake, J. A. Mills and Virgil J. Lee vice presidents. Col. Fred A. Olds was reelected secretary to devote his entire time to the duties and to exploiting Raleigh. The membership of the reorganized Chamber of Commerce is considerably more than 500.

The first installment of one third of the pledges made by citizens of Raleigh for the $75,000 Y. M. C. A. building became due June 1 and Treasurer Cary Dufrey reports that the payments are being made with remarkable promptness. The building committee has not yet announced the selection of a location. Neither have they yet secured a secretary for the association that is to be formed. Their call to Mr. Duncan, of Baltimore, was declined and there are now on the lookout for another trained man for the secretaryship.

There were charters granted today for four new North Carolina enterprises. The Meiers Marble and Granite Works (Inc.) Wilmington, has $25,000 capital authorized and subscribed by Frank Meiers, C. C. Martin, M. B. Gore and others; the National Grocery Co., also of Wilmington, has $5,000 capital authorized and $1,000 subscribed by C. G. Long, B. Lumsden, J. C. Long, the S. & S. Salted In the Shell Peanut Co., Fayetteville, has $65,000 capital authorized and $12,000 subscribed by W. F. Smith, C. W. Sandrock, H. O. Pond and others. And the Enterprise Fuel & Lumber Co., Goldsboro, $25,000 capital authorized and $9,500 subscribed by Thomas O'Berry, B. F. Short and others.

It is estimated that there are 250,000 acres of land planted in tobacco this season in North Carolina. The planting has been belated by the lack of proper seasons for transplanting, but this was carried on by watering until the later rains provided for a general rounding up of the work of transplanting. The young transplanted plants are reported to be developing nicely.

All citizens of the country have been invited by the War Department to enlist in the army for service in the north.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, June 2.--Attorney General Wickersham will proceed criminally against officials of the Standard Oil Company and the American Tobacco Company as soon as the time allowed by the United States Supreme Court for the dissolution expires, according to a statement made by officials high up in the administration.

Neither President Taft nor Attorney General Wickersham intend for any official of the two trusts to escape if they can reach him, but they do not believe that it would be proper to start proceedings against the officials until after the Supreme Court mandate has been executed.

President Taft was asked today by callers whether he thought the Sherman anti-trust law was antiquated. "No," replied Mr. Taft. "They are just beginning to make it useful."

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE AGAINST EX- COLLEGE PRESIDENT

Special to Telegram.

Fayetteville, June 2.--The grand jury of the Superior Court in session here has returned indictments on counts for embezzlement against C. R. Wakeland, former United States Commissioner and college president. Wakeland, who is charged with embezzling funds from A. H. Slocomb, by whom he was employed as a bookkeeper, cannot be found. John C. Gibbs has been appointed United States Commissioner in his stead.

Wakeland was formerly president of Pike College, of Clinton, Mo., of which Champ Clark was chairman of the board of directors. He came here in 1903 to conduct the Donaldson Davidson Academy, an institution connected with the First Presbyterian church of Fayetteville. The academy went down under his management, having no connection with the present Donaldson Military School.

BIG TANNIC ACID PLANT TO BE BUILT NEAR ASHEVILLE

Special to Telegram.

Asheville, June 2.--George W. Vanderbilt today closed a deal, selling 20,000 acres of his 120,000 acre pigskin forest to J. S. Silvestein and associates of Asheville, representing independent tanning interests.

No one concerned will indicate the price, but it exceeds $500,000. Mr. Vanderbilt did not pay more than $3 an acre for this land fifteen years ago, this being the average price paid for the 120,000 acres.

The purchasers of the land will build a railroad from Boleman, a distance of fifteen miles, to the property and construct on the property a tannic acid plant and probably a pulp mill.

ried on by watering until the later rains provided for a general rounding up of the work of transplanting. The young transplanted plants are reported to be developing nicely.

Preparations are afoot for the rifle range meet here Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week by the company teams from each regiment that made the highest scores in the three recent regimental contests on the ranges at Raleigh, Goldsboro and Gastonia when Company B, Raleigh Third regiment, won the Dupont trophy. The teams to shoot against each other are to be from Company B, Raleigh, Third Regiment; Company K, Asheville, First Regiment, and Company L, Second Regiment, Lumber Bridge. There is the keenest sort of interest in the contest.

A special term of Superior Court has been ordered by Governor Kitchin for Chatham county to continue one week from July 10, Judge Ferguson presiding.

Says the Greenville Piedmont: "A man could die happy in Greensboro."
Yes; that is true, provided the man was convinced that the alternative was living in Greenville.

that the fashionable English will crown
Mrs. John Hays Hammond the American queen of the styles.

The Catawba farmers have gone; the

that we have something to look forward
to with delightful anticipation.

Life is one thing after another in Greensboro, and events come with much rapidity that it requires two men and a boy like the folks who live in Greenville, S. C., to keep track of the procession of events as they whirl past.

It is to be regretted that Columbia is the only square meal town in South Carolina, and that South Carolina editors go there only occasionally. If the South Carolina editors were better fed doubtless better newspapers would be issued in Spartanburg and Greenville.

"Who wouldn't rather be Ty Cobb
than King George?" asks the Columbia State. Certainly no loyal American baseball fan is to be included in the ranks of those who would prefer to be King George, and many of the fans
would rather be Ty Cobb than the greatest man of this great and free country.

Fifteen men from Catawba county have gone home to spread the gospel of good roads, after seeing the roads of Guilford. They are sound converts, with orthodox views, and their missionary efforts will undoubtedly be productive of results. Thus it is that the roads of Guilford are of help to others as well
as the people of this county.

Atlanta, Ga., has overlooked a splendid advertising opportunity in failing to invite ex-President Diaz to make his home permanently in that city. If Atlanta delays longer about this matter,
it will be necessary for Greensboro to show the ex-President this courtesy.
Greensboro is not particular about having the Mexican as a citizen, but the fact that he carried away several million dollars when he left his country
should make him a very desirable citizen for Atlanta.

The Catawba county farmers came and saw—and surrendered to Greensboro.
Everyone of them went home feeling that this is the best town in the State.
That is correct, of course; but the men
from Catawba also carried away the impression that Guilford county has the best roads in North Carolina, and that is a fact, too. It was clearly evident that these men enjoyed their trip to Greensboro and Guilford, and it is certain that the Chamber of Commerce and citizens of the city enjoyed having them as guests.

ORIGIN OF A USED AND ABUSED WORD.

There is a word seen in the newspapers every day during the baseball season and almost every day during all other seasons of the year, the origin of which has been the subject of considerable discussion. In fact the subject has aroused so much interest, that even a staid and stately newspaper like the Richmond Times-Dispatch, ordinarily given to the discussion of grave subjects
of statecraft, finance, political economy
and various phases of the industrial and commercial problems, has deigned to notice it. This absorbing subject is the question of the origin of the word "fan",
as applied to one who is semi-insane in regard to the great national game of this country—baseball. The TimesDispatch enters this discussion with the following contribution to the hearing of the subject:

"Fan," as all red-blooded Americans
know, is the bit of slang which denotes the baseball enthusiast. The derivation of this word, which appears about 50-000,000 times each year on the sporting pages of American newspapers, is in doubt. The Boston Globe has been conducting a sort of investigation of the parentage of the word, and a number of people have offered explanations.

It has been thought—and a great many anti-baseball folks agree in the view—that "fan" is an abbreviation of "fantic." There are many, however, who stoutly contend that the word has another source. A Dorchester, Massachusetts man says, for instance:

"To say we are 'fans' because of 'fanatics' is too clumsy a word, and annoys
us. Look at a baseball crowd arising from lethargy to excitement; see the arms and forms unfold into bedlam, and you see a fan of humans spreading over the vista of the stands. That sight would explain the term better."

It has also been suggested that the word comes from the action of a batter who "fans" the air instead of hitting the ball. The crowd on the bleachers tries to "rattle" him, confuse him, and,
therefore, those who cause him to "fan"
are called "fans." Probably there are other theories as to the origin of this word; at any rate, those who have a brainstorm when a man on the home team puts a "three-bagger" over can ponder over this problem on rainy days.

THE HOUSE POSITION ON THE TARIFF ON WOOL.

Democratic opinion is divided as to what action the Lower House of Congress should take at the extra session in regard to placing wool on the free list.
The rank free traders favor that plan,
while the more conservative advocates
of tariff reduction believe the plan proposed for a reduction of fifty per cent.
on the duty is the best plan for the party to pursue and will probably result in the end in accomplishing the most real good for the country. The latter opinion is held by the Philadelphia Record, one of the ablest independent Democratic journals of the country. The Record sees the matter in this light:

"If free wool were practicable in this extra session, or in this Congress, it is not probable that ten Democrats in the House would vote against it. As it is wholly impracticable, nothing would rejoice the Republicans, Regulars and Progressives, more than to witness a tactical blunder of the Democrats in vainly attempting to penetrate a stone wall and in giving them a fresh pretext for coalition. This is one of the considerations that make the effort for free wool little less than absurd at this time. The Progressives of the Senate would unite with the Reactionaries to the last man against it, and make its defeat certain, to put the Democrats in an awkward position. On the other hand, the proposed bill of the Committee of Ways and Means to cut
the present schedule of wool and woolens in half is not only practicable, but it would give early and substantial relief to millions of American consumers."
"The Progressives of the Senate are committed by their record in favor of such reduction, and by their union with the Democrats the reduction would be secured. When the Payne-Aldrich bill was under consideration this was the burden of the lamented Senator Dilliver's great speech against it. Senators Cummins and LaFollette and other Progressives took the same ground. They could not now oppose reduction of the schedule of wool and woolens without performing the juggler's feat of swallowing themselves. An abortive attempt at free wool would unite the Republicans and divide the Democrats. The reasonable reduction of the wool duties,
as proposed by the Committee of Ways
and Means, will unite the Democrats, divide the Republicans and confer a great benefit on the country."

"It is not strange, then, that the Democrats of the House, who are responsible for this legislation and are earnestly endeavoring to solve its problems, resent what they regard in Mr. Bryan as tending to distract and divide their councils without accomplishing any other result besides uniting the Republicans of the Senate. But Chairman Underwood expresses confidence that the Democrats of the House, despite the efforts to divide them, will be sufficiently united to pass up to the Senate

the bill to reduce Schedule K. With this the embarrassment of the Democrats of the House over the bill will cease, and that of the Republicans of the Senate will begin."

WHY THE LOTUS FLOWER BLOOMS.

(By Ferdinand C. Iglehart, D.D., LL.D.)
A man stood one day on the banks of the Blue Nile, and gazed long and lovingly on the white and golden scene of beauty with which the lotus crowned
the river with glory.

"Do you know," said the Arab guide,
"why that heavenly blossom grows in this turbid stream?"

"I suppose it is because God so ordered it," he answered in simple faith.
The Arab bowed low toward Mecca
and continued. "Once there was no
flower growing along the banks of these waters, and a little child lay dying on the sands, who lifted her eyes toward the sacred mountains, and breathed this prayer: 'Great Allah, lover of all that is good and best, I have done nothing
in this life of mine, so soon to end on earth, grant when I die, that I may help
a little in the work with men.' And so her prayer was answered, and ever since,
this heavenly child, when the tide of the Nile goes down, scatters lots of seeds
along the river bank, and they spring
into life and burst into loveliness, seeming to say, 'God and Mahomet is his prophet.'"

Along the stream of time there are flowers blooming which have grown from seeds scattered by the figures of the darling little ones who have gone away from us to heaven. From the singular beauty of the flowers, and the delicious fragrance which they breathe
we know that the seeds from which they have sprung belong to another world.

One moonlight night I was walking with a gentleman friend when he said to me, "I had a little brother whom I loved better than life. We were together almost every waking hour at home,
school and play. We went to the mill-pond one evening for a swim, and my brother got beyond his depth and was drowned. We were all crazy with grief.
He was my partner and pet and I fairly cried my eyes out in my loneliness. It seemed as though no one else was living and that I had nothing more to live for."

"After suffering this agony for some time I had a dream one night. In it my brother came back to me. His clothing was so beautiful, and his face was lovely beyond expression. His face was all that could be desired by me, and it had gotten an added beauty in the realm
from which he came."

"He said to me, 'Brother, I asked my Heavenly Father to let me come back to you and tell you not to cry for me
any more. I live in such a lovely place,
and am so happy, that you must rejoice and not shed tears when you think of me. Promise me that you will not cry any more, and that you will be a good boy and join me again. The good old times we had together are only the beginning of the glorious times we will have together forever.' I promised him, and he put his arms about my neck and kissed me and went away from me."
"When I awoke the next morning much of my heart-sickness was gone, and instead of crying, I rejoiced that brother was in such a happy place and that I should be with him again."

I told my friends the Arab's story of the origin of the lotus flower, and said,
"Your brother came from the other world to scatter seeds in the river's edge
to bring forth lovely flowers for you."

Will Be Helpful to Caswell.

There is good business for Greensboro
in the hundred miles of territory between this city and Henderson. We can get it by building the Greensboro, Roxboro and Henderson railroad. The railroad will pay, and it will pay Greensboro to get in touch with the people along the line. Let every citizen of Greensboro get behind the movement to build the road.—Greensboro Telegram.

Our people of the "southside" should endeavor to induce the promoters of the above proposed railroad to extend it as far into the bonds of Caswell as possible. It means a complete outlet for you, offers you better market advantages and will raise the price of your real estate.—Yanceyville Sentinel.

The New Railroad.

When the new railroad from Greensboro to this city and the one from here
to Wilson shall have both been built,
Henderson will then be coming along
as an important and growing railroad center.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

Henderson is one of the best towns in the state. She has been growing rapidly and is already demonstrating what she can do. The new railroads will help her growth and add to her prosperity, and we hope they will not be long in coming.—Raleigh Times.

WHEN WOMEN WORRY

(By AIVA ARMSTRONG.)

When we sit down to count up our blessings, we seldom include in the list
the things we got ready for and which then never happened. Women, more than men, go to meet trouble headed,
as they think, in their direction, but
which was never intended for them.

They meet the disasters of life with much more fortitude than the thought of the disaster that never arrives, and are continually being agreeably disappointed because things do not go as they were certain they would.

And then the business calamities that never come! The man of the house looks worried and refuses to give any reason for his preoccupied air, other than that he has business affairs on his mind, so his wife sees ruin staring them
in the face.

She works out every detail of fitting
the furniture into a tiny house and getting along on next to nothing with wonderful rapidity. Just as she decides whether to ignore all her old friends
when the crash comes, or try to keep up appearances for the sake of the children,
her husband announces joyfully, "Thank goodness! Our bookkeeper is married at last! That fellow has kept us in hot water ever since he's been engaged, but he'll now settle down to business, and make fewer mistakes."

And so it goes. We are continually getting ready for "the things that haven't happened yet," and ninety-nine times out of a hundred they never do happen.

It is a great thing to learn to take
life exactly as we find it each day,
neither looking ahead too much, nor regretting the past, and what might have been, or what we might have done. It is right that we should take care of the future to a certain extent, and try our best to provide against misfortune, but we must not continually be thinking of possible disaster that will never happen.
So many of us are constantly crossing bridges before we come to them that the difficulties are entirely made up of imaginary troubles. Happy is she who can live her life quietly from day to day, trusting in the Provider of all things to smooth out the way.

The only way to find true happiness
is to take life as we find it, and be really thankful for present blessings.

MANAGING THE MAID

(By VIRGINIA HARLAN.)

There are two distinct reasons for women not being able to keep their servants. The first of these is overworking the maids, not giving them good food, and treating them badly; the second being too kind to them.

In nothing so much as the direction
of servants is it evident that too much familiarity breeds contempt. The mistress who goes out to the kitchen to talk to the maid clad in an old wrapper and with her hair in curl papers will not have a respectful servant. That is only too evident. If she lets the maid wait on table any old way the latter will soon think anything is good enough to set before her mistress.

A kindly interest in the welfare of a maid is one thing, but when this goes so far as gossiping with her about affairs and the places where she has lived the servant will do her work badly
and stop at every opportunity to talk.

The mistress who does housework to "help" a servant in very few cases helps matters at all. When the maid is not able to do the work she ought to discharge her and get another one that is competent.

Trying to help her through her work
usually has but one result—exciting her scorn, certainly never her gratitude, for no servant thinks highly of her mistress' housework, no matter how much the latter may pride herself on it.

There is nothing so contagious between mistress and maid as personal carelessness. The woman who wants a neat maid must be neat herself. She must not go around the house wearing soiled kimonos and limp shirt waists;
neither must she lounge corsetless half
the day.

Significant.

Margaret's father and mother, whose home was in New York City, had arranged to take a long-talked-of trip to Chicago. The night before they were to start on their western expedition Margaret's mamma told the little girl that she must go to bed early, as she would have to be up by daylight the next morning.

Margaret very obediently consented to prepare for bed. When her dress had been taken off and her nightgown put on she knelt to say her prayers. She closed
her petition as follows:

"Good-bye, God! Good-bye, angels!
Good-bye! Good-bye! I'm going to Chicago tomorrow!"

"Love your neighbor as yourself," said
the minister, with great earnestness.
"Thomas," whispered the lady to her husband, who lived next door to a pretty young widow, "come away; this is no place for you."

Some Views of the Tobacco Case.

The decision of the Supreme court of the United States that the American Tobacco Company is a combination in restraint of trade is not news in North Carolina. Down here we've known that all along. Notwithstanding the fact was well known, however, the majority of the members of the Legislature have always been afraid to enact a statute
that would reach the combine lest business should be disturbed. The Supreme court having blazed the way, possibly—note the qualification—the Legislature
may have the nerve to enact a statute effective against trust operations in North Carolina.

Asked about the Supreme court decision in the tobacco trust case. R. J.
Reynolds, the Winston tobacco king,
who is interested, told a Journal representative that all the great corporations want is to know what the law is, and that when they know what the law is
they are perfectly willing to abide by it.
But in the past the great corporations have disregarded, violated and defied the law. Instead of wanting to know what the law is so they can abide by it, they usually want to know what it is so they can find a way to get around it.—Statesville Landmark.

A Charming Woman

is one who is lovely in face, form, mind

to be charming without health. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irri-

and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always proves a godsend
to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate the stomach, Liver

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Greensboro Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy,
or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full
of sediment and irregular of passage.
DANGER SIGNAL NO. 2 comes from
the back. Back pains, dull and heavy,
or sharp and acute, tell you of sick
kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease.
Doan's Kidney Pills help sick kidneys.
Here is proof in the statement of a nearby resident.

J. A. Harder, Davis St., Burlington,
N. C., says: "I was troubled a great deal by backache and dull pains through my loins and sides. I often noticed that the kidney secretions were unnatural and passed entirely too frequently. Upon a friend's advice, I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box. I had used them but a short time before my kidneys were restored to their normal condition. I heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to other kidney sufferers."

A look of disappointment came over her face. "Next week?" she said. "Why isn't that—er—well, I'll tell you what to do: you may come up tomorrow night
and we'll decide which night next week
you may call."

CONDITION OF CROPS FROM EXPERT VIEW

(By PRESTON C. ADAMS.)
Special to Telegram.

New York, June 2.—After all is said and done, the prosperity of the country rests on the crops. This may be trite but it is true. Hence accurate information concerning the condition of the crops is a mighty good foundation upon which to build a forecast of the business future.

With this prelude it may be permitted to print a statement which comes from a big manufacturing concern in the Middle West whose agents and salesmen cover the entire country and are in a particularly favorable position to get accurate information concerning the crops. The statement says:

"The dominant note seems to be that while both soil and growing crop conditions, as a rule, are excellent, the principal matter now to watch is rainfall throughout the West, Northwest, the Central West, as upon the amount we receive in these sections between now and July first will depend the outcome of the crops; apparently there is no surplus moisture in the soil in the sections mentioned, nor in the Southeastern Atlantic States."

Generally good condition growing crops and soil. Western half of Oklahoma still too dry, and while sufficient moisture for present needs in eastern Colorado, western Kansas, western Nebraska, Eastern Wyoming, Idaho and Montana, all of both Dakotas, northern Minnesota, northern Wisconsin, yet reports show subsoil in these sections very dry, hence need seasonable rains from now to insure crops.

Corn not all planted, but generally increase 5 per cent. in acreage indicated; plant so far in good condition.

Cotton mostly planted, with about 5 per cent. increase in acreage. Growth of cotton plant retarded east of Alleghenies by dry, cool weather; west of same to Mississippi river by cool, wet weather; particularly fine west of the Mississippi river; no mention of boll weevil.

Winter wheat promises as large a crop under favorable conditions as ever harvested; about 5 per cent. increase in acreage. Spring wheat in good shape; about 10 per cent increase in acreage.

Large increase in oats acreage, but condition badly spotted.

Large increase in flax acreage in Northwest.

All secondary crops show increase in acreage; generally good condition.

Large increase in acreage of alfalfa, kaffir corn and all forage crops in Southwest.

Fruit crop promise largest for years, particularly apples and berries. Peaches hurt severely in certain sections, but still good crop. Citrus fruit damaged to some extent in southern California and Florida Peninsula.

Coal mining improving; all other mining quiet.

Live stock shows improvement over last year.

Lumber interests quiet.

Sufficient water in irrigation districts in West.

One of the most important banking positions in the United States must shortly be filled and already the possible candidates are being considered. The office is that of special examiner for the enlarged New York Clearing House. No other man in the country will be placed in possession of so full information concerning the financial operations of New York City. It will be his duty to ascertain the exact status of every bank and trust company in the organization. From him nothing will be hid. He will be clothed with unlimited powers in regard to investigating banking accounts and transactions. The knowledge he will thus gain would be worth purchasing at almost any price. It is essential, therefore, that the governors of the Clearing House make most rigid stipulations as to the conduct of this official during his term of office and after he may resign.

To secure the right kind of man a very large salary will be necessary—not less than $25,000 per annum, in all probability. To have the duties performed thoroughly and impartially would be worth four times that sum to New York. It is said that no local banker will be chosen for reasons that need not be specified.

Second only in importance to the admission of trust companies to clearing House membership is the agreement to appoint a special examiner with an adequate staff. It is even said that the financial powers were as anxious to introduce this innovation as they were to enroll the trust companies.

Without casting the slightest aspersions on the State Banking Department, it cannot be said that its periodic examinations inspire full confidence now that the trust company business has reached such a magnitude and has become so extremely diversified in character. When merely trust funds were handled the public's interest in these institutions was not very great, but today the New York trust companies are to be found engaging in all sorts of operations, from the promoting of "holes in the ground" as mines to the collecting of interest on the Government bonds of widows and orphans. The national banks want to have a proper check upon questionable doings, and it is believed that the new arrangement will prove a valuable step in the right direction.

One by one the old timers of the Standard Oil are receiving their final summons, and the younger generations have not yet demonstrated their ability to successfully fill the gaps. Seven prominent Standard Oil men have died within the last few years, so that today only a few of those who were associated with John D. Rockefeller in the early stages of his career remain at the helm. Daniel O'Day was among the first to go. H. H. Rogers, often described as "the brains of the Standard Oil," died under lamentable circumstances; in financial circles it was well known that this rugged financier lost heart over the events of 1907. W. P. Howe, W. H. Telford, F. Q. Barstow and Philip Ruprecht have all passed away, while this week James Smith head of the manufacturing committee of the Standard Oil Company, died suddenly at the age of fifty-three. How far overwork has been responsible for the mortality among Standard Oil Officials cannot be gauged, but those best acquainted with the facts believe that the strain involved has been a factor in cutting short the lives of more than one of those here enumerated.

Who will be the successors of the Standard Oil leaders removed by death and of the septuagenarians and octogenarians whose active labors are nearing an end?

Young John D. Rockefeller has no taste for business, but desires to devote his life to the philanthropic schemes evolved by his father, William Rockefeller's son, Percy, is an active, strenuous worker of recognized ability. H.

H. Rogers is credited with possessing more than average brain power, but he has not so far convinced his associates that he is destined to adequately fill the shoes of his father. The young Bedfords are noted for their strict attention to business, and they are already filling important positions in various departments. But, as already stated, the younger element, have not yet won their spurs. Fortunately, their training will fit them for complying with modern rules for conducting gigantic enterprise, inasmuch as they cannot but realize that the age of unrestrained and unmerciful tactics has gone by and that hereafter a corporation's morals must be above reproach.

RUSTIC STAND FOR FERNS

How to Make This Decorative Little Affair With a Strong Wooden Box and Twigs.

Little rustic stands of the nature shown in our sketch, for holding a fern in a pot and for placing upon the table, can be very easily made, and are extremely decorative.

For making them a small strong wooden box should be obtained, into which the pot containing the fern will fit fairly closely, and a number of straight twigs from which the bark may be peeled. The twigs should then be cut flat on one side, so that they will fit evenly against the side of the box, to which they may be fastened with small thin, sharp nails.

These pieces of wood should be long enough to entirely cover the sides of the box and extend about a quarter of an inch above the edge, and should be arranged as closely together as possible. At each corner two longer pieces of wood are nailed so that they form legs to the stand and raise it an inch or so from the table.

When complete, the stand can be stained a nice dark oak or entirely covered with gold paint, and in the latter case the twigs may be left in their rough state and the bark need not be taken from them.

The space in the box on either side of the pot, and also the top of the pot itself, can be covered in with green moss; and should it be covered to suspend the basket, then thin wire or strong twine attached to holes made in the sides will effect this purpose.

Red Cross Surgeons and U. S. Troops Help Wounded at Juarez

Photos copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

MANY noncombatants were wounded at Juarez during the fighting that finally resulted in the capture of the city by the insurgents. Indeed, many persons were wounded and several were killed in the city of El Paso, Tex., across the Rio Grande. After General Navarro had surrendered the United States troops stationed at El Paso and along the boundary line to preserve neutrality were able to be of service in caring for the wounded. United States army surgeons and others working under the direction of the Red Cross tendered their services to the wounded without regard to their sentiments. Scores of those who had been struck by bullets were brought across the bridge to El Paso, members of the Fourth United States cavalry being used to carry the wounded on litters to places where they could be cared for properly. The pictures above show one of the wounded soldiers being conveyed on a litter across the bridge over the Rio Grande and a boy, who had been wounded in the leg, receiving first aid from a surgeon.

MAY EXCHANGE FLAGS

Bill Providing Return of War Relics Being Drafted.

Albany, N. Y., June 2.—A bill is being drafted for introduction in the Legislature by Assemblyman Cuvallier, which provides for the return to the Southern States of the Confederate battle flags captured by New York troops and now exhibited in the Capitol here. The proviso of the return is that each State that has a flag must return to New York State any flags captured during the war.

CITY WILL ERECT MODERN ABATTOIR

At yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Board of Commissioners Commissioner Brown was authorized to advertise for bids for the erection of a city abattoir or slaughter house, at which all cattle and hogs will be inspected before being killed if the meat is to be sold in the city.

Since the passage of the meat inspection law there have been private slaughter houses licensed, but this year those who have been conducting the houses have refused to pay the license and the city has refused to go to the slaughter houses to inspect the cattle and hogs until the taxes are paid. Consequently several of the butchers have been compelled to take their cattle to High Point to have it inspected, this being the nearest place.

The city will provide a temporary slaughter house, pending the erection of a modern and up-to-date abattoir, such as are operated by other cities throughout the country. All cattle and hogs sold in Greensboro will have to be brought to the slaughter house to be inspected before it is killed, if the meat is to be sold inside the city limits.

HE WAS TOO GOOD

E. H. SOTHERN TELLS STORY ABOUT HIS FATHER.

Famous Actor Had Acrobat, Made Up as His Counterpart, Perform Dangerous Leap, With Disastrous Results.

E. H. Sothern, apropos of April 1, told at a dinner in New York a story about his famous father.

"My father in his youth," he said, "was once playing in a romantic drama wherein he made a tremendous leap—a leap from his lady love's tower to a mattress behind a wooden rock on the stage far below. It was a thrilling leap, and my father no doubt enjoyed the applause it won him; but one night he sprained his ankle and vowed he would leap no more.

"So the manager hired a professional acrobat to do the leap, made up as my father's counterpart, while my father would slip back under cover of the tower wall and descend to his dressing-room by means of a hidden ladder.

"The afternoon the acrobat came to the theater to rehearse, he made the leap, and then he set up a loud complaint.

"What's the matter?" asked a young member of the company, who happened to be in the theater.

"Why," said the acrobat, in a disgusted voice, "this here leap is too tame. It's too easy. A man with glass eyes and cork legs could do it. Now, if they'd let me throw two flippers in the air as I came down—

"Splendid!" cried the young actor. "The very thing!"

"You don't think the boss would mind?" said the acrobat doubtfully.

"Mind? Why, man, he'll be tickled to death. Ten to one he'll raise your salary."

"That evening, when the great leap scene began, my father was gratified to see the acrobat, a perfect picture of himself, crouching in the shadow of the window.

"Love, good-night—good-night!" my father cried.

"Stay!" moaned the heroine, and she threw herself on his neck. "Stay! That leap is death!"

"Nay, nay, my own; 'tis honor. I leap, 'tis true, but there is that within my heart will bear me up—thine image, love. And so, good-night, good-night."

"He kissed her madly on the brow, tore himself from her clinging arms, and rushed across the open space into the shadow.

"Jump!" he hissed between his teeth.

"And out, straight out into the air, shot the acrobat. Twice his lithe shape whirled round like a great flywheel. Then he lit lightly and easily on the topmost point of the wooden rock.

"Roars of laughter and thunders of applause shook the theater. The acrobat bowed stiffly and strutted off into the wings with his arms folded. But the remarks of my poor father on his ladder have not come down to us."

Lion Took Public Stroll.

Panic reigned both within and outside the Melbourne (Australia) opera house recently when a handsome lion escaped from its trainer. While a turn was in progress the big cat somehow slipped its fetters and stole amicably across the stage, and strolled out by a stage door. An attendant closely followed, and when the animal turned into a large commercial building, he promptly pulled the door to. The animal was then as secure as if he were in a cage, except, of course, that he had the run of the building. Thousands of people gathered in the vicinity, and a strong posse of police took up positions in the street. Men in the building were badly scared at the sight of the intruder, and barred themselves in their offices until the lion was safely removed.

The Danger of Extremes.

"The late Bishop Whitaker," said a Philadelphia clergyman, "had very little sympathy with ultrahigh-church leaning.

"A young divine once said to him at a Lenten lecture:

"Bishop, suppose I should burn a few pastilles during service, do you think anything would happen?"

"Bishop Whitaker smiled drily, and, passing his hand down his white beard, he answered:

"A good deal would happen, my young friend. Your congregation would be incensed, your vestrymen would fume, and it's more than likely that you yourself would go up in smoke."

Streets Flowed With Wine.

When 300,000 litres of red wine streamed down a Geneva street a few days ago, men and women seized pails, pans and jars—anything with which to scoop up and save the precious liquid—and for a time scenes of unparalleled confusion reigned in the thoroughfares. The remarkable incident was caused by a fire which broke out in a wine dealer's cellar, and caused numbers of enormous casks filled with wine to burst one after the other.

U. C. T.'S ELECT OFFICERS AND END ANNUAL SESSION

hope that the delivery will not cause my hearers to sweat the great drops of blood I have in its preparation, I proceeded.

"A few months ago the people of the city of Greensboro decided they were tired of conducting their municipal business according to the antiquated out-of-date and extravagant methods heretofore in vogue, and they decided to adopt the commission form of government. Having arrived at this conclusion, it then became a question as to who was the man most fitted to serve the city as mayor under the new plan. They have chosen, and having listened as we have, to his hearty and eloquent words of welcome to the members of the United Commercial Travelers of America, you will endorse me when I say that the citizens of Greensboro chose wisely and well when they selected from the many strong business men of the city that native son and broad-gauge citizen, Thomas J. Murphy. He has demonstrated by the warmth of his welcoming words to us that he knows a good thing when he sees it.

"Mr. Mayor, to you, and through you to the citizens of progressive Greensboro, as an officer of the grand council of the Carolinas, U. C. T., as a representative of an order embracing nearly 70,000 commercial travelers, I desire to thank you for the warmth of your welcome and for the courtesies that are being extended to us. The delegates from Greensboro Council No. 296, at Wilmington, N. C., last year, would hear of no denial of their wishes to be our hosts this year. They promised us the time of our lives if we lived long enough to get to Greensboro, and if they were given the opportunity to demonstrate their ability as entertainers and Greensboro's many advantages as a convention city. I see by the program of the two days' events that the promises then made are about to be fulfilled—and then some; which only goes to emphasize the fact once again that the commercial traveler is the superior of the father of his country, who couldn't tell a lie—the 'drummer' can, but he won't.

"We are delighted to think that you have so fully given us the freedom of the city. It has simplified matters considerably—that act has—for we came here as commercial travelers and, as you are aware, commercial travelers are apt to get about all they go after in one way or another. Therefore, if you, in your wisdom or through your knowledge of the species, had not so generously handed us this roving commission, some of our most successful salesmen would have wheedled it out of you anyway. Permit me to say you acted wisely, Mr. Mayor, and our handling of the privileges from now until the last of our members leave your city will leave no doubt in your mind that you did so.

"You and your fellow citizens have for many years been accustomed to the sight of commercial travelers who either live in your city or visit your city on a business mission, in ones, twos and threes. You see him at those times when he is struggling to make his customer happy by letting him in on the good things he has up his sleeve, making his employer happy by securing large, fat, juicy and frequent orders, and trying to make as few false steps as possible that he may close his deals and get back to wife and children for that one consecutive holiday that to him looms up so big at the end of each week. You see the commercial traveler at such times when he is in his most serious moods, with only now and then time for a smile or a ripple of fun. But now you are to see him, accompanied by his wife, mother or sweetheart, and with two whole days in his hands in which to enjoy himself. Watch him; it will do you all good to see how genuinely he will enjoy every minute of this time, the more so because of the presence of his loved ones.

"I will not burden you with a discourse on the order of United Commercial Travelers of America. The citizens of Greensboro have an object lesson in its personnel in the 125 members of Greensboro Council No. 296. Many of you who are listening to my voice know some one or more members of the order. You will all see a lot of our members here today, more tomorrow. We are willing to be judged by the samples spread out for your inspection.

"The order, its aims, objects and performances can best be judged by the fact that it has attracted to its fold nearly 70,000 commercial travelers in the 44 states of the union, and five Canadian provinces, which is evidence sufficient that it is the best order that could be devised for those eligible for membership."

First Business Session.

At the conclusion of the opening exercises the members of the Grand Council repaired to the Pythian building, where the business sessions were held. The roll call showed that every officer and every representative was present, 12 officers and 23 representatives answering the roll call. The following committees were appointed; after which an adjournment was taken until 3 o'clock: State or the Order—J. W. Patterson, Chairman; E. E. Trogden and J. E. Call, Auditing—R. F. Stokes, Chairman; Walter T. Jones, M. MacC. Ottinger, Necrology—G. H. Sadelson, Chairman; S. C. Stimson and E. E. Mendenhall.

Mileage and Per Diem—L. H. Burnett, Chairman; W. J. Edwards and W. L. Mims. Credential—Horace Upshur, Chairman; Victor Wald and S. S. Booker.

Second Business Session.

At the afternoon session the committees made their reports and these were adopted. The report of the necrology committee showed that there had been seven deaths in the jurisdiction during the past year, one of the deaths being in Greensboro Council, No. 296, D. R. Burch. The report of the committee on the state of the order showed that everything was in fine shape, the membership during the past years having increased quite materially.

A number of matters of routine business were attended to, following which the council went into the election of officers for the ensuing year. The council passed resolutions thanking Senator J. R. Baggett for the bill introduced in the North Carolina Legislature regarding the pulling of mileage on trains, also to H. W. Carlisle, of South Carolina, for a similar bill introduced in the South Carolina legislature regarding mileage; also thanking all legislators who worked to secure relief for the traveling men by the passage of the bills introduced by the above mentioned representatives.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"It is the sentiment of the members of the U. C. T. of the Carolinas that the present form of mileage in use in North and South Carolina is burdensome and unsatisfactory, therefore we desire to go on record as being opposed to any form of mileage that compels the traveling public to exchange same for tickets at the ticket windows. It is the opinion of this body that mileage should be lifted on trains when presented by the purchaser."

The committee on resolutions made the following report which was unanimously adopted:

Greetings: Whereas at this time the deepest feeling of gratitude and appreciation for the most kindly and courteous treatment accorded to this body at Greensboro, N. C., be it

Resolved: That for the many courtesies and elegant program arranged for our entertainment and amusement by Greensboro Council No. 296, our thanks are unanimous, and appreciation most profound; and we wish to thank particularly the committees who have provided so liberally for the entertainment, not only of ourselves, but also that of our ladies. Be it also

Resolved: That we fittingly thank Mayor Thomas J. Murphy for the most cordial welcome extended the members of this Grand Council and visitors in behalf of Greensboro.

Resolved Further: That for the many privileges extended by Merchants and Manufacturers Club, the Elks' Club, the Automobile Club, Chamber of Commerce, and the Press of the city, that this Grand Council go on record as being thoroughly in sympathy with these organizations in their effort to give Greensboro what it is justly entitled to; and that this body extend hearty and sincere thanks for the use of their club rooms, which have been so kindly tendered, and we wish to express our thanks to all who have contributed in any way to the pleasure of this Grand Council.

Resolved: That the hotels of the city be commended for their many courtesies and accommodations.

Resolved: That this Grand Council now in session appreciates the kind fraternal greetings extended this body from Mr. C. C. McLean, State Secretary of the T. P. A.'s.

Resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the Greensboro Daily News, The Greensboro Telegram, and the Daily Record.

In closing, your committee cannot refrain from complimenting the Ladies' Entertainment Committee in their earnest co-operation with the other committees and the membership of Greensboro Council, in the perfect arrangement which has been the means of facilitating the handling of the large amount of business brought before this Grand Council.

This session has been conducted in peace and harmony and our stay in Greensboro, we feel, has been both pleasant and profitable.

Respectfully submitted,
W. O. PAGE, Chairman.

Today's Program.

Today will be the big day of the convention. The entire day will be devoted to pleasure and everyone is counting on enjoying the day to the fullest extent. The order of exercises follows: Parade at 9:30, dinner at the park at 12:30, ball game at 2 and league ball at 4:30.

The Parade.

The annual parade of the travelers will be pulled off this morning at 9:30. The knights of the grip will assemble in the auditorium and the parade will be headed by the Charlotte Drum Corps, 25 strong, and the Confederate Fife and Drum Corps of Raleigh. It is expected that more than six hundred knights will be in the line of march. The line of parade will be down Davie street to Fayetteville to Asheboro, Asheboro to Lee, Lee to Elm, Elm to Church, Church to Davie and Davie to East Market. Here the knights will board special cars for Lindley Park where dinner will be served at 12:30 o'clock.

The Ball Game.

At 2 o'clock at Cone Park teams representing North and South Carolina will contest for the supremacy of the diamond. This event will be one of the features of the convention. The game has been advertised over two states and a large number of the travelers have come here to witness the contest. There are many aspirants for the positions on the two teams and each applicant has to stand a rigid examination before he will be accepted as a member of the nine. Frank Doyle will probably umpire the game.

Reception to Ladies.

Yesterday afternoon from 4:30 to 6:30 o'clock in the Merchants and Manufacturers' Club a reception was given in honor of the visiting ladies here for the convention of the United Commercial Travelers. During the reception hours a large number of ladies called and the occasion was enjoyed to the utmost by all present.

Yesterday morning the visiting ladies were shown over the city in automobiles, furnished for the occasion by citizens of the city. This innovation was greatly enjoyed by the ladies.

The U. C. T. Dance.

The dance given last evening in honor of the United Commercial Travelers and their wives was one of the social events of the season. The dance was given in Neese's hall and was attended by nearly a thousand gentlemen and ladies. Music was furnished by Hood's orchestra and the dancing lasted from 9 to 12 o'clock. About two hundred couples participated in the dancing. The entertainment committee served light luncheon at 10 o'clock, followed by refreshments. The local committee on arrangements had spared no effort to make the occasion one of enjoyment to all present and it is safe to say that the visitors had a royal time.

Wedding Invitations.

Invitations reading as follows have been received in the city:

"Mr. and Mrs. James H. McGee request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Lillie May, to Eli Craven Geringer on Tuesday morning, June 6, 1911, at 10 o'clock, Pelham, N. C."

Epworth League Program.

The Epworth Leaguers of West Market Street Methodist church will give a reception Monday evening in honor of Misses Irene Boyles and Nina Troy, who have returned from the National Training school at Nashville. A splendid program will be rendered and all young people of the church are invited to attend.

Thompson-Pace.

Misses Florrie and Flossie Jones have returned from Raleigh where they attended the wedding of Miss Lucy Lee Pace to Joseph Thompson, which occurred on Thursday night at the home of the bride. Miss Florrie Jones played the wedding march, and Miss Flossie Jones sang "O, Promise Me." The bride is well known in Greensboro where she has often visited.

Mrs. M. W. White and daughter, Mary Bethel, of Mooresville, are visiting Mrs. G. M. Morris, Spring Garden street, returning from Chapel Hill where Mrs. White's son graduated this week.

Mrs. F. H. Shepard, of Salisbury, is visiting Mrs. J. R. Carson, Rankin street.

Mrs. W. T. Jones and child have gone to Pocomoke City, Md., on a two months' visit to relatives.

Mrs. Garland Daniel is visiting her parents in Siler City.

Miss Martha Dozier, secretary of G. F. College, expects to leave today for Texas to attend conference there.

Miss Madge Shields is the guest of Miss Bertha Bennett, of Durham.

Miss Nina Troy has returned from her work in the Training School at Nashville, Tenn., to spend the summer vacation at the home of her mother on South Mendenhall street.

Miss Addie Cox arrived yesterday from Christ's School at Arden for a short visit with Miss Frances Sutton, on North Davie street.

Miss Alice Bass of Durham is in the city the guest of Mrs. John Yeager.

Mrs. C. W. York has returned to Creedmoor, after a visit to this city.

Miss Eva Aiken left yesterday for a visit with friends in Winston-Salem.

Miss Esther Tarington, of Rockingham, was in the city yesterday enroute to Winston-Salem to visit friends. She will soon return to the city and spend some time with friends here.

Mrs. J. F. Allred and children and Morton Kernode have gone to Elon College to visit relatives.

Lawn Party and Ice Cream Supper.

The ladies of the North Greensboro Baptist church will give a lawn ice cream supper opposite the residence of Mr. Westmoreland on Keogh street tonight (Saturday) at 8 o'clock. The purpose is to raise funds for the purchase of a lot for a chapel. All interested are invited.

Reception and Lawn Party.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Barefoot, South of Glenwood, Wednesday evening, May 31, Mrs. Barefoot gave a reception in honor of her music class. There was a program of music, consisting of vocal and instrumental solos.

A very interesting feature of the evening was a musical contest in which part of her pupils took part. Two prizes were awarded to little Miss Bessie Thomason. Those taking part in the contest were Miss Terrell, Miss Thomason, Miss Lois Siler. Each number was so well rendered it was difficult to tell who really had won the prize.

After the music the guests were ushered into the dining room where refreshments, consisting of cream and cake and fruit were served. They then assembled on the lawn where amid Japanese lanterns they played games and enjoyed themselves in various ways.

Chart of Cornation Review of Fleet Is Issued.

London, June 2.—The admiralty has issued the official chart of the coronation review of the fleet at Spithead on June 24. Within the positions, covering eight square miles, will be gathered 170 British warships, dreadnaughts to submarines; eighteen foreign warships and about sixty ocean liners and yachts.

The British vessels will be assembled in five long lines, the foreign vessels forming the sixth line. Beyond the limits of the official review ground will be anchored hundreds of other yachts, merchant ships and pleasure steamers, forming an imposing display of British shipping.

AGAINST THE RECALL

Senator O'Gorman Voices His Unalterable Opposition.

Alabany, N. Y., June 2.—United States Senator James O'Gorman, responding to an invitation of the Legislature, addressed that body today.

Senator O'Gorman said that generally he favored the proposed Canadian reciprocity agreement, and expressed the belief that there is a majority in the Senate favorable to the direct election of United States Senators. He voiced his unalterable opposition to the recall of judges as provided in the Arizona Constitution. This feature, he declared, would amply justify Congress in withholding the privilege of statehood.

The Senator told of the opposition in the Senate to the reapportionment bill upon the ground that the House would become too large for deliberative work, but expressed the hope that the bill would be reported and passed.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS

On the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Press Bible Question Club.

(Copyright 1910 by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.)

June 4th, 1911.

(Copyright, 1910, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.) Israel's Penitence and God's Pardon. Hosea xiv.

Golden Text—Thou art a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, slow to anger. Neh. ix:17.

(1.) Verse 1—What proportion of the members of present day evangelical churches, are walking in the conscious favor of God?

(2.) God's chosen people had gone away from Him, and the prophet urges them to return; what suggestion is there in this for pastors?

(3.) What reason is there to believe that the average Christian backslider, before he finally gets established in the faith?

(4.) Verse 2—When a backslider wishes to return to the Lord, what "words" will he be likely to use?

(5.) Why is it not possible for one to be a Christian without using "words" to God?

(6.) When we talk to God we enter into conversation; how, or in what language does He talk to us?

(7.) When God "takes away all iniquity," does he make it possible for us not to commit any more? Give your reason.

(8.) Verse 3—Why is it impossible to keep saved if we depend on any earthly thing, and do not put our trust wholly in God?

(9.) Why is it wrong for a child of God to be anxious about earthly things?

(10.) Verse 4—How would you compare a forgiven sinner, with Adam before he sinned, in the matter of moral purity?

(11.) What difference is there in the way God treats and regards a reclaimed backslider, and, if there be such, an angel who never has sinned?

(12.) Verses 5-7—What does God do for and with His children, in order that they may develop their spiritual lives?

(13.) What takes place in a faithful Christian, which answers to the growth and perfume of a flower, or the growth and expansion of a tree?

(14.) If the life of a man is not as sweet perfume, and if he is not as the spreading branches of a great tree on a hot day to the weary traveler, what if any reason is there to believe that he is a Christian?

(15.) Why is it either right or wrong to believe that a Christian must grow in grace or backslide?

(16.) Verse 8—What is it, under our present conditions, to worship an idol?

(17.) What are the chief idols which people now worship?

(18.) Is there any danger, and if so what, of practical idolatry in connection with our church services?

(19.) Verse 9—May any man understand the mind of God from the Bible, who is not personally taught of God? Why?

(20.) What is it which makes it certain that a child of God will be led into all truth? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

HAS FOUR POSITIONS

New York Man Gets Three Federal and One State Salaries.

Washington, D. C., June 2.—Alfred Brooks Fry, of New York City, is holding three distinct Federal positions and a fourth place under the New York State government, drawing four separate salaries, according to testimony today before the House Committee on Expenditures in the Treasury Department, by J. Knox Taylor, supervising architect of that department. Mr. Taylor said Fry is on the pay rolls at $7,400 a year as superintendent of the Federal building at New York; at $1,400 annually for services rendered the chief clerk of the Treasury Department, and has government compensation as constructing engineer for Ellis Island immigration station, throughout the Department of Commerce and Labor, and receives a salary as an employee of the New York Canal Commission.

THE GREAT BIBLE CONTEST IS DRAWING NEAR

In two weeks our Bible contest starts. This revival in Bible study is being welcomed by all the churches. We are glad to have the co-operation of the churches, the pastors and Sunday school workers, in this important undertaking.

The prizes that are offered are intrinsically valuable, and the Diploma given to all who complete the course will confer a great honor upon them; but the greatest prize of all is the study itself; no words can overstate its value. All teachers of boys and girls, say of fifteen years and over, should urge them to take up this course. Adult Bible Class teachers will find this contest to be a great stimulus to their work if they personally get behind it and set the example. Many pastors call attention to the I. P. B. Q. C. from the pulpit and urge their people to join and participate in its benefits. We have no doubt that the pastors of Greensboro and Guilford county will not be one whit behind those of other towns. We have reason to believe that parents are encouraging their grown-up children to take this course and we urge upon all parents to follow the good example.

The Telegram is necessary for these studies, so order it for yourself, or a friend, by using the attached coupon.

BOWELS ACT FINE AFTER A 'CASCARET'

Keeps Millions of Folks Feeling Good All the Time—No Headache, Billiousness, Constipation or Bad Stomach.

It is a great deal more necessary to keep clean on the inside than on the outside. Cascarets are more important than soap. The pores of the skin may become clogged with dirt, but they don't absorb the impurities. The pores of the bowels do.

There are myriads of pores in the bowels, the duty of which is to absorb the nutriment from food. That's how we get our nourishment. But if the bowels are sluggish digestion is delayed. It decays and forms gases and poisons. Then those pores of the bowels suck poison into the blood. That's how we get our ills.

We urge the habit of cleanliness. Don't wait till you need a physic. That leaves too much of the time when you are only half well. Keep yourself at your best. The right way is to carry a 10 cent box of Cascarets with you. It fits the pocket or purse. Take one just as soon as you know that you need it. It is gentle and sure.

CAN ERADICATE TICK

Conclusion Is Reached by Bureau of Animal Industry.

Washington, June 2.—The eradication of cattle tick from the infected States in the South is entirely feasible and its disastrous effect upon the cattle industry in that section of the country can be prevented. This is the conclusion by the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Department of Agriculture as the result of a series of investigations and experiments carried on during the past six years in co-operation with State authorities. The announcement was made today in a statement on "The Biology of the Texas Fever Tick."

The cattle tick is declared to be the greatest barrier to live stock raisers in the South.

FLEET LEAVES COPENHAGEN

American War Vessels Start for Swedish Capital.

Copenhagen, Denmark, June 2.—The second division of the United States Atlantic fleet sailed from Copenhagen at 6:30 o'clock this morning for Stockholm, where the battleships are due to arrive Saturday. The Swedish capital is the second point in the itinerary of the squadron's foreign cruise of international courtesy.

The officers and men were astir early this morning preparing for their departure from the Danish capital, where they had spent an enjoyable week. The usual salutes were fired as the warships passed out of the harbor. Despite the early hour, many persons had gathered along the harbor front to cheer the departing Americans.

Dr. Maurice F. Egan, the American minister, who has given his whole time during the stay of the squadron to looking after the comfort of the officers and men, was among the prominent persons who paid farewell calls before the vessels weighed anchor.

ELON COMMENCEMENT BEGINS SATURDAY EVENING

Largest Class in Institution's History Will be Graduated---Some Features of Commencement---Judge Walter Clark to Deliver Address.

Special to Telegram.

Elon College, June 2.—Examinations
closed on Friday afternoon and commencement begins Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, which will be the occasion of the Class Day Exercises. The class this year is the largest in the history of the college, there being 16 who will receive the Bachelor's degree, 3 who will receive the Master's degree, 2 who will receive degrees in the Teacher's course,
L. L.; 6 will receive certificates in the Music Department, 4 in the Art Department; making a total of 31 who will receive degrees and certificates at the approaching commencement. This is by far the largest number in any graduating class and the commencement, therefore, bids fair to be the largest in point of attendance and general interest in the 21 years of Elon's history.

Sunday morning at 11:30, the Rev.
Patrick Henry Fleming, D.D., pastor of the First Christian Church of Burlington, N. C., and secretary of the corporation, will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon. Sunday evening will be given over as a farewell service of the Senior class
to the student body and village, at which time Rev. W. L. Wells of the graduating class will lead the religious services.

Monday evening at 8 o'clock the society representatives, from the 3 societies in the institution, will deliver orations, and read essays. Miss Mabel Hale Farmer, News Ferry, Va., and Miss Maggie Isley, of Burlington, N. C., will represent the Psi-chapian society. Messrs.
W. H. Fleming, of Burlington, and W. L.
Anderson, of Haw River, N. C., will represent the Philogian society. Mr. A. J.
Dickey, Jr., of Northern Alamance, and
Mr. C. J. Felton, of Magnolia, will represent the Clio Society.

On Tuesday morning at 11:30 o'clock

Chief Justice Walter Clark, of the North Carolina Supreme Court, is to deliver the Annual Literary address before the 3 literary societies. Judge Clark comes at the invitation of the Philogian society.

Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock occurs
the Annual Commencement Recital of the Department of Expression, and at 8 o'clock the Annual concert of the Music Department.

Chief interest, however, centers in the graduation exercises on Wednesday morning, which begin at 10:30. The Senior Class will be represented by 6
orators and essayists as follows: Orators, Messrs. R. A. Campbell, Dayton, Va., A. C. Hall, Burlington, N. C., J. S.
Lincoln, Wakefield, Va., and J. J. Ingle, of Elon College. Essayists, Misses Effie Griffin, Liberty and Buleah Foster, of Burlington. Following the essays and orations will come the baccalaureate address of President Moffitt, presentation of diplomas and certificates, and con-fering of degree. Also the presentation of Bibles by Rev. T. E. White, Ram-seur, N. C., and of medals by Leroy Ransom, Esq., of Charlotte.

Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock the Art exhibit takes place on the first floor of Administration building. At 4 o'clock the society reunion and meeting of the Alumni Association. The commencement exercises will close with the Alumni Address on Wednesday evening
at 8 o'clock.

On last Wednesday evening President and Mrs. Moffitt tendered a formal reception to the graduating class. An elaborate course was served, Mrs. Moffitt being assisted in the serving, by Bisses
Clara Moffitt, Linda Barnes, Mary Lou Pitt and Ethel Clements. Several recitations and readings were given and the reception was indeed a pleasant
one.

has issued from its Chicago headquarters an appeal calling for a general strike of all workers on the day the Mc-Namara brothers, alleged Los Angeles
dynamiters, are arraigned for trial.

The Cloth Hat and Cap Makers' Union
now has a membership of 3,000. It has been decided that the general executive board shall get in touch with the Union Hatters of North America for the purpose of discussing ways by which the two bodies can amalgamate.

The union of all musicians in a worldwide organization was one of the principal subjects before the sixteenth annual international convention of the American Federation of Musicians, in session at Atlanta, Ga., recently. More than 500 locals were represented.

Branches of the Granite Cutters' Union which have effected settlements so far this year have got a uniform increase of 25 cents a day, and many of them have signed up for five years, with excellent methods of adjustment of disputes that may arise.

Toronto, Can., recently entertained delegates to the eighth biennial and eighteenth regular convention of the Order of Railway Telegraphers. Not since 1893, when the order was in its infancy, has a convention been held in Canada. Now there is a membership of 50,000 in Canada and the United States.

Canada produces 82 per cent. of the world's supply of asbestos. In 1880
only 380 tons of asbestos were produced, valued at $24,700; whereas in 1909, the production amounted to 633,300 tons, valued at $2,300,000. In 1909, 3,444 men were employed in the asbestos industry
and received wages amounting to $1, 350,000.

The officials of the Illinois Central will be asked by the System Federation of employees of the company to meet the executive board on July 1 for the purpose of discussing and agreeing on a uniform increase in wages for the eleven allied organizations. It is generally believed that the increase in wages to be asked will be about 20 per cent.

The Japanese coolie is being crowded out of the Pacific Northwest and his place is taken by Scandinavians and Italians. On railroads of the west, Japanese have been used almost exclusively for ten years, but there has been a general dislike for them. Railway toilers snubbed the little brown men so often that they have taken the hint and resigned
wherever possible.

The executive committee of the State Federation of Labor has voted to ask the New York Legislature to pass an insurance act for the benefit of men in hazardous employments. It is proposed to have the State, employer and employee contribute.

By the terms of the agreement signed by committees representing the Syracuse, N. Y., Brewers' Exchange and
the unions directly and indirectly interested in the strike all the strikers are to be discharged and all the men who went out are to be reinstated in their former positions. The brewers unreservedly granted the wage increase of $2 a week
demanded by the strikers.

Steady Decrease in the Mosquito Pest
at New Haven.

New Haven, Conn., June 2.—The annual "mosquito census" of the New Haven Board of Health shows that there are this year twenty-two varieties of mosquitoes in this section. The number of the pests is steadily decreasing, according to the report of the experts, and the present plan of oiling
the city streets is held largely responsible. Oil from the streets is washed into the sewers, whence it finds its way into the harbor and eventually is deposited by the tides upon the marshes where the mosquitoes like to breed.

Do Your Cooking in the Cool

A hot kitchen is little better than a prison in summer. But the range is there, so all the cooking and the washing must be done there, too.

What a relief it would be to move the range where you pleased. You can do this with a New Perfection Oil Cook-stove—cook your dinner out on the porch, if you like. It is the only range that is really portable—that works equally well in any place. There are no connections to be made, as in a gas range; no wiring, as with an electric stove; no sooty flues and ash-filled grates, as with coal or wood.

The long, enameled chimneys carry the heat directly up to saucepans, oven or boiler; you get full value from your fuel, without waste.

New Perfection
Oil Cook-stove

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long tapering flues, enameled chimneys, and specially finished throughout. The 2 and 3 burner stoves can be used with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with deep shelves,
towel racks, etc.

A PAROID ROOF

The roofing that lasts and any one can lay. Thousands of the most progressive farmers, dairymen, poultrymen, etc., as well as railroad companies and the U. S. Government, use PAROID for roofing and siding in preference to all others, because they have proved that PAROID is the most economical, the most durable, and the most satisfactory.

THIS IS WHY: It is made of extra strong felt with an extra good saturation and coating, which makes it proof against sparks, cinders, water, heat, cold, acids, and fumes. Slate color, contains no tar, does not run or crack, and it does not leak rain-water. The only roofing with rust-proof caps. They cannot rust out like ordinary roof caps. Don't be put off with a cheap imitation, get the most economical and durable—the roofing that lasts.

DOYLE'S CHAMPS POUND TWINS HARD AND WIN THE GAME

Took Yesterday's Contest by Score of Eight to Two—Final Game This Afternoon.

"In all my dreams I hear your screams; Yours is the Jonah of teams—O, you, Winston-Salem."

To the tune of "Sweet Adeline" a bunch of happy Greensboro rooters sang something like the above for the benefit of the Twin-City-ites who ventured out to Cone park yesterday afternoon to see Rube Eldridge and the Patriots "mop-up" Clancy's Twins.

Eight to two was the final score, but that indicates only in a slight way the complete and overwhelming defeat that the followers of the Standard of Clancy were given. Every Patriot in the game got one or more of the 14 hits secured by the team. Doyle, Bentley and Stuart got drives to the fence for three bases each, while Doak hit at opportune times, twice for two bases each time.

Fully 1200 people witnessed the game and among supporters of the Patriot team enthusiasm was intense. There was a tremendous amount of noise among the Winston folks about the time the two runs were made in the first inning and they continued rather obstreperous until the third. When the locals made two more runs and went ahead little more was heard from them. The Twin City folks are the hardest losers one ever saw, and they get sore right when they come down and see the team get a good drubbing.

Rube Eldridge was a little unsteady in the first inning, when he allowed three singles and two runs, but after that he was effective to the last frame. Once or twice there were men on third, one time men on second and third with nobody out, but Rube gave the batters a few of those underhand balls and they madly fanned the air. He pulled himself out of several bad holes.

In the first inning Gates and Shumaker got singles and were advanced by Clancy. Both scored on Edwards' single, and thus the only two runs of the game for the visitors were secured. In the same inning Rickard was given a free pass to first and went to second on Spencer's balk. The next two men were out, leaving Rickard on second. But Togo Bentley was yet to be heard from, and when he was heard it was the noise of his willow rapping the sphere for a clean three-bagger that went to the fence.

In the second inning Reddy Stewart went on the knoll, and the Patriots found him about the easiest meat seen here this season. They batted his balls all over the lot, and every man on the team fattened his batting average. Runs were made as follows: Two in the third, two in the sixth, two in the seventh and one in the eighth inning. Bentley got three hits in four times at the bat for a total of five bases; Doak two hits for four bases; Doyle two hits for four bases; Stewart one three-bagger, and Clapp a couple of singles. Even Reuben got one pretty single that scored Stewart and gave one more run.

The fielding of both teams was good. Altogether it was an interesting game, and the good crowd and enthusiasm served to make it one of the most enjoyable afternoons of the season.

Where They Play Today.
Winston at Greensboro.
Anderson at Charlotte.
Greenville at Spartanburg.

Back again.
Top place is home to us.

We love "home" so well we don't like to stay away more than one night at a time.

Simply must have this game today, no matter who pitches.

Amateur baseball at 2 o'clock today. Winston-Salem and Greensboro will play at the usual hour—4:30 o'clock.

Why not "Rabbit" Doyle pitch today. We believe either he or Clapp could beat such men as "Red" Stewart.

To look at "little" Stuart one would have never guessed that he would be the first batter in the league to put the ball over "Primley's Chewing Gum" sign.

It's worth the price of admission to see Stuart run when he gets a hit.

Bentley catches as well as ever, and he is hitting a little better than ever before.

If Tony pitches today he will have an opportunity of again winning the favor of the fans.

How we long for "Deacon" Morrissey for one of these games.

If all our pitchers had lost the proportion of games Walters has our club standing would be 250—the lowest in the league.

Outfielder Walker of Spartanburg is to go with the Washington Americans. He was sold yesterday by Spartanburg for the sum of $2,250.

We do anything from polishing floors to frescoing a ceiling. Paris Glass Decorating Co.

Bentley, Stuart. Two-base hits—Doak, 2. Sacrifice hits—Bentley, Edwards, Stewart, Mullin. Hits—off Spencer 1 in 1 inning; off Stewart 13 in 7 innings. Bases on balls—off Spencer 1, off Stewart 1; off Eldridge 2. Strike outs—by Spencer 1; by Stewart 5; by Eldridge 7. Stolen bases—Rickard, Fuller, Bentley, Clapp, Carroll, Shumaker 2. Left on bases—Greensboro 8, Winston-Salem 6. Wild pitches—Stewart 1. Time—2 hours and 14 minutes. Umpire—Mr. Nugent. Attendance—1,200.

RED SOX OUTPLAYS GREENVILLE BUNCH

Spartanburg, S. C., June 2.—Poor support given by the Greenville team gave this afternoon's pitcher's battle to the Red Sox 2 to 1. Ferrell allowed more hits and has less strike outs to his credit but Cashion was wild and also made a balk. Errors counted in all the runs made. Left Fielder Walker of the locals got three of the four hits.

REV. H. BALDWIN DEAN KILLED BY TRAIN IN GEORGIA

News was received in Greensboro yesterday afternoon of the death of Rev. H. Baldwin Dean, a former resident of this city, who was killed by a railroad train at Montezuma, Ga., where he has been living since leaving this city about five years ago. No particulars have been obtained as to the manner of his death.

Mr. Dean was rector of St. Barnabas church during his residence of about three years in Greensboro. He was a learned and cultured gentleman and news of his death was a great shock to his admirers and friends here. Mr. Dean is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Dixon of Montezuma and Mrs. Brown of Philadelphia. He was probably about 75 years of age.

The funeral of the deceased will occur in this city Sunday and the remains will arrive today from Georgia.

Mrs. O. W. Woosley Died Yesterday

After an illness of four months at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. R. Michaux, on North Elm street, Mrs. O. W. Woosley succumbed to the fatal attack yesterday afternoon shortly after three o'clock. Although she had come here to receive the best medical treatment from her home in Asheboro the attending physicians and nurses were unable to effect any great relief.

Only last July the deceased, formerly Miss Florence Robertson, daughter of Dr. D. A. Robertson, of Guilford College, was married to O. W. Woosley; at the beginning of the fatal illness she was brought here but the best efforts possible could not aid the struggle of the sufferer.

Besides the sister, Mrs. Michaux, a brother, Geo. B. Robertson, is the sole survivor.

The funeral services will be held Sunday morning and interment will follow at the Guilford College grave yard.

COTTON LETTER TO J. E. LATHAM.
New Orleans, La., June 2.—The map shows fair belt, with no rain except a light shower at Jacksonville, Fla. Temperatures high in the Western half of the belt but seasonable in the Eastern half. Official records show 13 stations, Texas temperatures above 100, as high as 104. The temperature average in Oklahoma was 100 degrees and 95 for entire belt against 83 last year. Indications are for stationary conditions except possibly increasing cloudiness in the Northwestern quarter, comprising Oklahoma, the Pan Handle of Texas and Arkansas, owing to a storm now passing on Northern Missouri.

Liverpool was about 2 better than due on new crops, steady and unchanged on old crops and spots of which 5,000 were sold. Our market was comparatively idle in the first hour. There was some disposition to sell on the government forecast of increasing cloudiness and unsettled weather in the northwestern quarter of the belt but selling is cautious as everybody realizes that the situation is growing serious, that a general rain is needed over the belt and that with a continuance of this dry hot weather for two weeks longer, there would be an important loss in cotton acreage.

The bureau report today gave 87.8 as the average condition of May 25, which compares with 82 last year and 81.1 year before and a ten year average of 80.9. The acreage in cotton is given as 35,004,000 vs. 33,418,000 last year an increase of 4.7 per cent. While the condition was higher than generally expected, the acreage was below expectations and the market did not vary more than ten points. There was a good demand for new crops on the depression. It is known that the condition on May 25 applies more to the condition of the ground than to the plant and as fields are well cultivated the condition is high. The condition of the plant over a large area has deteriorated in the last week.
